Discussion:

Micaela:

- Is still a little confused about the items on the budget, but is willing to give an interview to further discuss their project
- Discuss their goals and their concept
- Anneli: Everything on their budget seems reasonable for the project they want to put forth
- Suhail: Thinks it is a good program because we know exactly what they want to do
 - Additionally their project seems very sustainable
- Jared: Pointed out that they only have 5 UCSB students, they are kind of limited on the UCSB students they provide an opportunity for
- Sharon: Thinks they should actively open it up to more students
- Bryan: We have funded them before and they seem like they are doing a lot for the community
 - Phases- how many is there?
 - Thinks that considering that we have funded them before, we should grant them an interview
 - Has a global impact- do work at another country
 - Goal of project lines up with our mission statement- have granted them before

Mission Statement:

- Ensuring the survival of the arts by providing talented emerging artists with the skills and guidance they need to thrive.

Project: Art Without Limits

How their proposal fits CoVo's mission statement:

- This program will engage one UCSB undergraduate student as a paid intern who will contribute to a meaningful and lasting positive impact on the greater Santa Barbara community.

Discussion:

- Micaela: Mentioned that they are only outreaching to one specific candidate, they should open it up more
- Anneli: Would be willing to fund only the student intern not the staff
- Kajol: There is a staff admin training, kind of odd
 - Randomly only placed $50 to fill to the max what does this consist of
 - Very limited UCSB interaction
- Suhail: Why only one student, what are the supplies for
 - How does us our funding help the community
 - Jared: Why is staff so much money- pay for staff?
- Sharon: Agrees that it would be ideal to fund only the intern

- Likes that it is an art program
- Brayan: Mentioned he is okay with funding the one UCSB student
 - In potential interview we could ask about UCSB involvement
 - Do they have other events that are more inclusive to UCSB students
 - Sounds like a very comprehensive program

Questions:

- What is included in supplies?
- How do they outreach for UCSB students and have they had any results in the past of UCSB student involvement
 - How involved are UCSB students? What do their jobs entail?

Mission Statement:

- To help students succeed in life through squash and education

Project: Transportation for Students

How the proposal fits with CoVo's mission statement:

 We address a social educational issue in the community that our student demographic needs. We reach out constantly to UCSB students asking for help with volunteer tutoring and occasional internships.

Discussion:

- Kajol: Says they are dedicated to the kids, making sure they are on track for school, last year brought a pamphlet to show what they offer the kids
 - Underprivileged students who sometimes get scholarships to colleges
- Anneli: Like the organization as a whole and said the video was very nice
- Jared: Likes it, we have funded them before so we can see that the program is sustainable
- Sharon: Really like what they are doing and says it is a different outlet for the kids. Created an alternative sport for kids
 - Believes that funding is reasonable for the program
 - Considering the students that they recruit, students probably don't have transportation available
 - Says she can see how important it is for the organization to provide rides
 - Mentioned that they mentor the students as well so that they have a successful future, mentor them throughout their academic pursuit

Questions:

- Level of UCSB engagement/ outreach
