Event Title: Dead Prez

Catherine Nguyen (Programming Assistant)
Event Lead: 951-870-8309
catherine.nguyen@sa.ucsb.edu

Start Date: Thursday Feb. 25, 2010
End Date: Thursday Feb. 25, 2010

Event Location: UCen Hub

Description:
Continuing on the path of politically minded artists like Public Enemy, 2pac, and KRS-One, Dead Prez has been revolutionizing hip-hop since the late 1990s. Taking inspiration from the life and social activism of Malcolm X, Sticman and M-1 produce political hip-hop that challenges the status quo to rally against the inequities in American society. With insight and honesty, they rep the streets and give voice to the hearts and minds of those without mainstream representation. We believe that this will be an extremely valuable educational event for the UCSB student population.

Description: The SBDF will be happening in April for the first time. It is unique film festival in that we are opening to all of the UCSB community to collaborate to produce their films: photographers, actors, musicians, filmmakers, graphic artists, etc. We are having competitions leading up in various fields (photography, posters, screenwriting) that we will need to promote for before the actual event in April draws nearer. This is a multi-part event leading up to the film festival, and our requests are for the two upcoming competitions as well as promotion for the festival so as students can start pre-production and principle production now.

Budget for the following events (rounded up to account for tax): Cookie Decorating, Card Making (for Queer Valentine event w/ QSU), Picture Frame Making, Glow-in-the-Dark CTF, and Bowling. These events are a way to facilitate social interaction and build community while addressing the need for more non-political queer friendly activities on campus. While these programs are supposed to be safe spaces for queer identifying students and allies, they are open to all UCSB students and will be advertised on campus and in residence halls as such.

The EEMB Graduate Symposium was initiated largely to showcase the work of EEMB graduate and undergraduate student researchers. This one-day event provides an opportunity for these student researchers to hone their presentation skills by formally presenting their work in a supportive, interdisciplinary environment. An annual event, the Symposium also facilitates and encourages intellectual discourse and the sharing of ideas among peers and promotes cohesion across disciplines.

Lunar New Year is one of the most important traditions among Asian cultures. We are hoping to maintain our tradition among Asian Americans while increasing cultural awareness in UCSB. We are hoping students from different ethnic backgrounds would join us, so we want to offer food, games and performance free of charge. Since we had an extremely good response last year, our anticipated attendance is 800 people. This is a joint club event hosted by six different student groups: Hong Kong Students Association, Taiwanese American Students Association, Vietnamese Students Association, Chinese Students Association, Sigma Kappa Chi, Alpha Kappa Delta Phi.

The Wellness interns have decided to promote another aspect of Wellness here at UCSB. This event's theme is centered around the emotional and health benefits associated with gratitude and kindness. At the Random Acts of Kindness event, we will be facilitate students to participation in activities related to kindness, optimism, and other skills that are scientifically proven to positively affect the well-being of students. We not only want to be kind and spread our own kindness into the lives of the students, but we want to provide students the opportunity to increase their own positive emotions, gratification and meaning in life.

Los Ingenieros will host the Eleventh Annual Science and Technology / MESA Day (S&T Day), on Saturday, March 6, 2010. S&T Day brings underrepresented and first-generation upper elementary, middle school, and high school students (and families) from the Tri-Counties to UCSB for a day of academic models, opportunities, and activities in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM). The purpose of S&T Day is to expose students to a STEM education at a UC and to encourage confidence that they too can succeed. We want to enlighten students that college is an attainable goal, and to inspire them to pursue STEM careers.

BSU's Annual Outreach is focused on giving high school students the opportunity of experiencing the college life. Staying in the residence halls with hosts that volunteer for the event, high school students from the Los Angeles and Inland Empire area get a chance to attend workshops, lectures, student forums, and social events put on by the BSU Community. The program is for three days and two nights, in which the ultimate goal is to encourage these students from underrepresented areas to strive to go to college.

Hermanos Unidos and Sigma Alpha Zeta developed the College Link Outreach Program out of the need to encourage qualified high school students to attend UCSB. In our twelfth attempt, we will once again invite 120 underprivileged students from all over the City of Los Angeles to our 3-day, 2-night long program. CLOP participants will have an opportunity to experience a glimpse of college life and engage in workshops geared towards their own educational needs. We will offer as much knowledge and information as possible to students that are not usually encouraged or exposed to the university setting.
