Event Lead: Catherine Nguyen (Programming Assistant)
951-870-8309
catherine.nguyen@sa.ucsb.edu

Start Date: Thursday Feb. 25, 2010

End Date: Thursday Feb. 25, 2010

Event Location: UCen Hub

Description: Continuing on the path of politically minded artists like Public Enemy, 2pac, and KRS-One, Dead Prez has been revolutionizing hip-hop since the late 1990s. Taking inspiration from the life and social activism of Malcolm X, Sticman and M-1 produce political hip-hop that challenges the status quo to rally against the inequities in American society. With insight and honesty, they rep the streets and give voice to the hearts and minds of those without mainstream representation. We believe that this will be an extremely valuable educational event for the UCSB student population

Description: The SBDFF will be happening in April for the first time. It is unique film festival in that we are opening to all of the UCSB community to collaborate to produce their films: photographers, actors, musicians, filmmakers, graphic artists, etc. We are having competitions leading up in various fields (photography, posters, screenwriting) that we will need to promote for before the actual event in April draws nearer. This is a multi-part event leading up to the film festival, and our requests are for the two upcoming competitions as well as promotion for the festival so as students can start pre-production and principle production now.

Description: Lunar New Year is one of the most important traditions among Asian cultures. We are hoping to maintain our tradition among Asian Americans while increasing cultural awareness in UCSB. We are hoping students from different ethnic backgrounds would join us, so we want to offer food, games and performance free of charge. Since we had an extremely good response last year, our anticipated attendance is 800 people. This is a joint club event hosted by six different student groups: Hong Kong Students Association, Taiwanese American Students Association, Vietnamese Students Association, Chinese Students Association, Sigma Kappa Chi, Alpha Kappa Delta Phi.

Event Location: UCSB

Description: Los Ingenieros will host the Eleventh Annual Science and Technology / MESA Day (S&T Day), on Saturday, March 6, 2010. S&T Day brings underrepresented and first-generation upper elementary, middle school, and high school students (and families) from the Tri-Counties to UCSB for a day of academic models, opportunities, and activities in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM). The purpose of S&T Day is to expose students to a STEM education at a UC and to encourage confidence that they too can succeed. We want to enlighten students that college is an attainable goal, and to inspire them to pursue STEM careers.

Event Location: UCSB Campus

Description: Hermanos Unidos and Sigma Alpha Zeta developed the College Link Outreach Program out of the need to encourage qualified high school students to attend UCSB. In our twelfth attempt, we will once again invite 120 underprivileged students from all over the City of Los Angeles to our 3-day, 2-night long program. CLOP participants will have an opportunity to experience a glimpse of college life and engage in workshops geared towards their own educational needs. We will offer as much knowledge and information as possible to students that are not usually encouraged or exposed to the university setting.
