How UCEAP Works

COURSE CREDIT

All courses taken through UCEAP are UC units and will automatically be posted to students' UCSB transcripts after returning from abroad. Courses can then be petitioned to fulfill major, minor, or GE requirements.

With proper planning even double majors can study abroad and graduate on time.

ELIGIBILITY

All majors in good academic standing can study abroad. Minimum eligibility requirements vary by program, such as class standing (Sophomore-Grad Student), GPA (2.0-3.5), and language level (0-2+yrs), and are stated on each program's webpage.

Most applicants who meet the minimum requirements and turn in a well-written statement and complete application are admitted. However, some programs are competitive due to limited space.

COST

Participants continue to pay UC tuition fees, which are paid to UCEAP and not the host institution. Additional UCEAP fees and cost of living vary by program. Total cost estimates are available on each program's webpage.

Longer programs in affordable countries are the best deal. Many year-long programs cost less than staying at UCSB and are listed later in this booklet.

FINANCIAL AID

UCSB financial aid, including grants, scholarships, and loans will be repackaged based on the cost of the program and follow you abroad.

Financial aid estimates are available through the EAP Calculator:
eap.ucsb.edu/finances/financial-aid

Additional study abroad scholarships are available to eligible applicants.

Find Your Program

UCEAP PROGRAM FILTER

uceap.universityofcalifornia.edu/programs

Narrow down over 160 program options by country, discipline, and more. View full program details including dates & eligibility, courses, and cost.

MAJOR ADVISING PAGES

eap.ucsb.edu/academics/major

Learn how to obtain a deeper understanding of your major through UCEAP with advice from your major advisor and recommended programs.

GAUCHO CREDIT ABROAD DATABASE

eap.ucsb.edu/academics/gaucho-credit

Search for the types of credit (major, minor, GE areas) that UCSB students received for UCEAP courses in the past. This is a historical database; check your program website for most current course listings.

UCEAP COURSE CATALOG

uceap.universityofcalifornia.edu/uceap-course-catalog

This archive of UCEAP courses taken by UC students is searchable by keyword and can help determine which programs may have courses in your field. This is a historical database; check your program website for most current course lists.

STUDENT STORIES

eap.ucsb.edu/explore/stories

Discover UC students' experiences abroad through videos, blogs, and social media.

“Studying abroad for a year was one of the best decisions I’ve ever made in my life. While the prospect of living in a foreign land for that long and using a language that is not your native tongue may seem daunting, it is completely worth it. Possibly the most fulfilling part about studying abroad was the sense of independence and personal growth that I gained throughout the year.”

- Christina H.

"I interned in the marketing department at IBM Japan. All of my coworkers were incredibly kind and helpful, and my supervisor taught me so much. The work was done in English (thankfully) but I always spoke Japanese with my coworkers, which really helped me improve my speaking ability. Outside of the actual work I was doing, I was invited to various dinner parties by my supervisor and coworkers, joined a salsa club taught by a coworker, and participated in monthly hikes through the IBM marketing hiking club. The memories I made at IBM are definitely some of my most cherished memories I have from Japan."
